How will my tickets be issued?

Whenever possible, MissionaryAirFareSearch.com will issue an e-ticket. An E-ticket (or "electronic ticket") is a paper-less ticket. Instead of using a physical ticket, your photo ID (such as a driver's license) and a printed copy of your itinerary, are all that you need to receive your boarding pass. The airlines may ask you to present the credit card that you used to book your flight. Using an E-ticket is very simple and completely secure. Most airlines offer E-tickets, especially for U.S. domestic travel. Many international airlines also offer E-ticketing on select routes.

IMPORTANT TRAVEL TIP:

Some carriers require travelers to present the credit card they used to purchase the ticket online. Note about E-tickets: If your reservation is not eligible for an E-ticket, we will issue a paper ticket and mail it to you. In the event a paper is issued and mailed, a FedEx shipping charge of $15.00 will apply.

I Need to Travel With an Infant or Small Child, What Do I Need to Know?

By Airline definition, an infant is a person 24 months of age or less. A person 2 to 11 years of age is considered a child. For domestic flights, an infant does not need a ticket, but will be required to sit on an adult's lap. If you do not want your child to sit on your lap, you will need to purchase a separate ticket. The airlines permit only one lap infant per adult traveler. You'll need to purchase a seat for each infant exceeding the number of adult travelers.

On international flights an infant must have a ticket, even if the infant sits on an adult's lap. In addition, full standard departure, arrival, passenger, airport and security taxes apply to all infants.

I found a cheap rate the other day and now it's not there. What happened?

Airfares are subject to change until you actually purchase your ticket. Airlines reserve the right to pull fares at anytime and seats can sell out in a particular booking class between the time you checked rates and the time you actually purchased. The best thing to do is to purchase your ticket when you find an acceptable airfare.

I Received an E-mail that said "Airfare Pulled" After I Booked my Reservation?

Quoted airfares are not guaranteed until processed by one of our Travel Specialists. Between the time you click purchase and the time that the reservation was processed by an agent the airline reserves the right to remove rates. This happens in very limited situations. If you have received this type of e-mail, your reservation has been cancelled and your credit card was not charged. If you would like to re-book, you can do so on this site or call one of our agents at 770.928.2826. We apologize in advance for the inconvenience.

Can I Change the Name on a Reservation?

Once tickets are purchased they are non-transferable. Airline tickets are valid for one year from the date that they were issued. If the passenger wishes to change the ticket, he or she should re-schedule the trip by contacting the airline directly. Remember the ticket will have NO VALUE if you fail to cancel the flight with the airline prior to the date of departure.
